

SFT

Svensk Förening för Toxikologi

Swedish Society of Toxicology

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAMME SFT ANNUAL MEETING 2018
NOBEL FORUM, KAROLINSKA INSTITUTET – 20TH OF APRIL, 2018

“Children’s health”

8.30 – 9.00	Check-in and coffee (served until 10 AM)
9.00 – 10.00	Årsmötesförhandlingar (held in Swedish, see separate agenda)
10.00 – 10.05	Opening of the meeting and welcome Charlotte Nilsson, Swetox, chairman of the Swedish Society of Toxicology
10.05 – 10.10	Chemicals from children’s perspective Mattias Öberg, Swetox & KI, chairman of the Swedish ERT committee
10.10 – 10.50	Juvenile Toxicity Studies: why, how and when Shaun Maguire, Astra Zeneca group, Cambridge
10.50 – 11.10	Environmental factors and ADHD – a pilot systematic map of epidemiological and toxicological research Anna Beronius, IMM, KI
11.10 – 11.30	Chemical exposure of children and unborn children Julie Boberg, Technical University of Denmark
11.30 – 12.00	Short oral poster presentations (details to be announced)
12.00 – 12.45	Lunch buffet
12.45 – 13.15	Poster session (hallway)
13.15 – 13.55	Chemical brain drain – developmental neurotoxicity as a public health hazard Philippe Grandjean, University of Southern Denmark
13.55 – 14.15	Prenatal paracetamol exposure and delayed language development in children at 30 months Carl-Gustaf Bornehag, Karlstad University
14.15 – 14.35	Risk assessment of diapers and its materials Peter Mohlin, Essity Hygiene and Health AB, Mölndal
14.35 – 15.00	Coffee break
15.00 – 15.20	Metabolomics as a tool for evaluating health impacts of exposure to environmental pollutants in children Tuulia Hyötyläinen, Örebro University
15.20 – 15.40	Exposure of term human fetuses to persistent environmental chemicals Richelle Duque Björvang, KI & Swetox
15.40 – 16.00	PFAS levels in first-time mothers in relation to offspring weight gain and growth up to 5 years of age Irina Gyllenhammar, Livsmedelsverket
16.00 – 16.20	Early life cadmium exposure and child development Maria Kippler, IMM, KI
16.20 –	Closing ceremony , followed by drinks and snacks in the hallway