

Session 1 speaker:

Jussi Kukkonen, Professor, University of Eastern Finland, Finland

Professor Jussi Kukkonen of the Department of Environmental and Biological Sciences, University of Eastern Finland is currently the director of water research program (UEF//Water). Prof. Kukkonen is a highly recognized expert in fate and effects of organic chemicals, nanomaterials and plastics in aquatic systems with over 200 scientific publications. He has supervised 35 P.h.D. research works and 8 post-docs. Currently he supervises post-doctoral researchers and two PhD students on pesticide, microplastics and water remedial related topics. He also currently serves a three-year term as the chair of the Research Council for Biosciences, Health and the Environment of the Academy of Finland.